DETAILED ACTION

This Office action is responsive to communication received 02/12/2004 – application papers filed, IDS, Preliminary Amendment, Foreign Priority documents; 08/25/2004 – Letter submitting substitute specification, claims and abstract.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-4, drawn to a method of designing a golf club head, classified in class 473, subclass 409.
- II. Claims 5-8, drawn to a golf club head, classified in class 473, subclass 324.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons: Inventions I and II are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the product as claimed may be made by another and materially different process such as altering the specifications of the golf club head to arrive at a club head whose thickness and elasticity meet the claimed requirements (claims 5, 6) based upon any one of the following measurable parameters: the distance traveled by a struck ball; the discernable audible feedback generated by the striking of a golf ball against a metal plate; the “feel” that is provided by face plates of diverse material elasticity and thickness. The method of claims 1-4 presents a trial and error style of constructing a preferred golf club head arrangement. Similarly, there are several other trial and error approaches that may be utilized to arrive at the claimed golf club head product.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
